Net Gains in the Day Around Two Center -Oats Join the Upward Movement on Bad Crop News-Reports of a Big Bull Pool Find More General Credence.

There was another sharp upward movement in wheat prices on the Produce Exchange yesterday. High records were made and broken repeatedly, the course of prices, was irregular and generally there was a repetition of the excited trading in evidence on Monday and Thursday. At one time every option both in New York and in Chicago was well above the dollar mark. High prices for the day were high prices for the movement and closing prices were likewise higher than on any previous day ince the Leiter movement in 1898.

The net gain for the September and Deember option in this market was 2 cents The July option registered a net dvance of 314 cents. At the high point of the day July sold at $1.08, September at $1.08 and December at $1.09%. The closing prices were: July, $1.061/4; September, $1.061/4; December, $1.08. The trading was the heaviest of any day since the movement began

The market was rather weak soon after the opening on reports of favorable weather from the West and heavy shipments from the Argentine. Both July and September sold off to 10334. The recession produced a multitude of buying orders from the public and from professional traders and these quickly advanced prices 2 cents a From these figures there was an advance to the high points of the day in the early afternoon. This maximum bulge was accompanied by reports of damage from various sections of the winter wheat belt and cold weather in the Canadian Northwest.

A sharp advance of 2 cents a bushel in oats accompanied the bulge in wheat. The advance was due to much the a me causes, bad weather conditions and the ravages of the green bug. As one large grain house got it from its crop expert: "Don't let the traders forget that the green bug eats oats, too." From all the big grain houses there were reports of heavy public buying and brokers said that the day's trading furnished cumulative evidence of the fact that the interior public is wild over wheat speculation. There were reports, too, more generally credited than on previous days, of the formation of a big bull pool. The pool, it was said, was headed by two or three of the largest New York grain houses and was dealing daily in many millions of bushels. Though the greater part of the pool operations have been in the Chicago market, it was said, its buying in the New York market was quite as effective as was the public buying in advancing prices here.

Bradstreet's says that the wheat crop There were reports, too, more generally Bradstreet's says that the wheat crop reports which it has received lately have been a little more optimistic. In order to get good results, though, warm growing

Green bug damage has been stayed outhern Kansas, but is reported in Nebraska. Improvement is claimed in Ohio, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. Corn planting being retarded by cold weather and ground. Good weather is demanded if increased area is to be seeded. Spring wheat seeding is late in northwest Minnesota and South Dakota will finish this week. North Dakota, the largest producer, is still backward. Perlect weather needed if crop is to turn out well. Red River Valley prospect best in Planting in Canada is very late, and 10 to 20 per cent, decrease from a year ago nay be shown in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, all depending on weather from now till June 1. Oats are hadly spotted, but show some gain this week. Crops in Oreshape. Some improvement is noted in California. Cotton is three weeks to a month late. Some land has been planted three times in Alabama, Georgia and Louisiana Average conditions are reported in Texas, which needs warmth. The crop is being chopped out in South Carolina, where con-dition equals a year ago. Better outlook for late crops is reported in Florida.

WILD MARKET IN CHICAGO. Wheat Jumps Over the Dollar Mark and Other Grains Advance.

CHICAGO, May 17 .- Every pit on the Board of Trade went wild when July wheat topped the dollar mark, the highest point of the year, at 11 o'clock this morning. The cry of "$1 for July" was echoed and reechoed about the floor and brokers deserted other pits to crowd about the wheat pit and watch the activity. The floor was a mass of cheering brokers who pulled and tore at each other in riotous attempts to show their feelings. The great rush of buying orders that poured in on the brokers this morning swamped the efforts of the selling crowd to stem the upward flight and gave the shorts a bad few minutes.

After the $i mark had been reached July reacted to 99½, where it hovered for some time, and then went up to $1.02. September sold at $1.02¼ and December at $1.03¼.

A comparative table follows:

is facing a serious shortage of breadstuffs and that was sufficient for Wall Street and that was sufficient for Wall Street, the Northwest and the country at large. Weather is more favorable for the crops. In the Northwest seeding is progressing more rapidly under seasonable conditions. Excitement in the wheat pit was augmented by a sensational jump in the price of oats, which advanced 2 cents, to 46%, for July. The firm of Logan & Bryan ought 300,000 bushels of July oats and was the gossip on the floor that the grain will be taken, in on delivery and shipped out to California, where crops are said to be a failure.

the Barters of the War Department Tremble. WASHINGTON, May 17.-It is unofficially stated that the army engineers will begin to-morrow an inspection of the foundation of the west wing of the State. War and Navy Department Building, where Secre-tary Taft has his office. Fears are entertained that the floor in the Secretary's office may have become impaired. The weakening of the supports is said to have been caused by what happened there this morning when Mr. Justice Harlan came in and told Secretary Taft a funny story. The jurist has the big War Secretary beaten several pounds on avoirdupois, and when they got together to-day and swapped they got together to-day and swapped stories clerks rushed out into the corridor fearing that there was an earthquake.

"Mr. Secretary, I just came in to tell you," was all those in the ante room heard Justice Harlan say as he entered the Secretary's office. A moment later there were two thunder rolls of laughter, the rafters trembled and the tenplas in the Y. M. C. A. bowling alley across the street all fell over. Then the door opened and those on the cut-side say the visitor was about to leave when the Secretary, still shaking, caught Justice Harlan by the arm and dragged him back with "and say, Judge, that reminds me—"

him back with "and say, Judge, that reminds me—"

Again the door closed and two minutes afterward there was a repetition of the mirthful demonstration. The coho reverberated through the corridors and an aged clerk who has not heard a sound for thirty years aroused himself and inquired what warship was firing a salute. Justice Harlan left the office holding his sides, while the Secretary of War returned to bis deek, and fifteen minutes later, when his next caller was ushered in, he had succeeded in calming himself down to the point where he was smiling only.

"Really, boys," said the Secretary to the newspaper men. "I'd like to tell you that story Harlan told me, but I can't. I couldn't do justice to it. You'll have to appeal to the Supreme Court."
